We provide free online and in-person training to the governmental public health workforce on strategic public health skills and priority health concerns. We offer:

Skills-based workshops, online modules and leadership institutes

Live and on-demand webinars on emerging public health issues

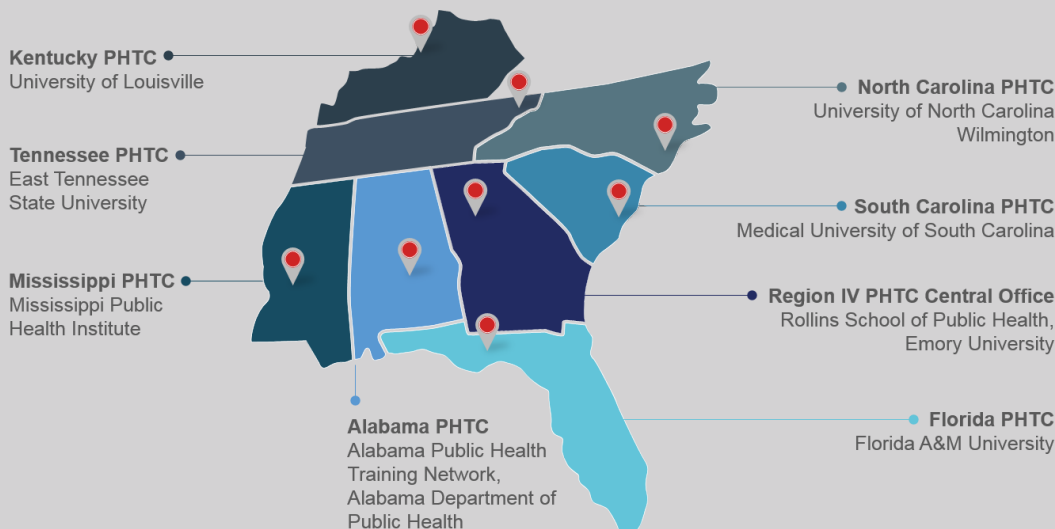

Training for adapting existing curricula to a distance-learning format

Each year we place over 30 public health students with agencies serving medically underserved communities.

The Region IV PHTC Learning Community

The Central Office and seven Public Health Training Centers at Community-Based Training (CBT) Partners serve HHS Region IV and a national public health audience.

We are a member of the

PUBLIC HEALTH LEARNING NETWORK
Educating Professionals,
Elevating Practice.
